NORMAN J LIVERPOOL IV

\ Entrepreneur and Speaker

Norman J. Liverpool IV, an Entrepreneur and Speaker, is a dedicated professional with a passion for spreading awareness for the LGBTQ+ Community and the issues that this community faces. He is also the creator of a signature mentor-ship and coaching program designed for the LGBTQ+ Community, Over the Top Living. Prior to accomplishing so much for not only himself, but others as well, Norman left his home in Chicago and relocated to Las Vegas. It was during this time, in 2007, that he began his journey to finding himself. By 2008, this journey led him to the realization that he was gay. Then identifying as a black, gay man, he would then spend the next several years in and out of varying versions of himself. This process spanned for 15 years.

Determined to prevent others from losing their own precious years, Norman set out on a mission to help other LGBTQ+ community members as they journey the path of self discovery. Dedicated to guiding others to live in purpose, on purpose, Norman launched Over the Top Living in 2019. The organization explores the challenges of coming to terms with who you are. It equips its members with the tools, products and services needed to live unashamed and unapologetic lives. Alongside these, he regularly speaks on topics concerning family dynamic, self-acceptance, self-encouragement, and life as a gay black man. In doing so, it is his hope that he can transform as many lives as possible by helping others to always live and love freely, in purpose, on purpose.

SPEAKER TOPICS:

1. "You Won't Make it to see 30: Words from my Mother" This explores the family dynamic. My mother was a single mother of 2 gay children. This was extremely challenging for her. When I came out to her she did not think I would live to see 30 years old. I share how my mother and other family members changed the way i see family and how i created healthy boundaries to live my best life now. I also touch up on my personal journey with my mother and where we are today as an example that it can get better.
2. "Be YOU, boo: Living Unapologetically and Unashamed" This explores the coming into ones own, self-acceptance, self-encouragement, and how to move in a world that seeks to shame. I include some of my own Over the Top Living hacks on how to live your best life now, right where you're at.

"Double Trouble: My Black Experience" This explores my journey as a black man who is also gay. I discuss unique challenges and how external and internal influences challenged me. This is an encouraging talk that also touches upon my personal and professional development.
